Carol Indilla is Suffolk County's Court Employee of the Month

CENTRAL ISLIP, N.Y. - Suffolk County's District Administrative Judge, H. Patrick Leis III, is pleased to announce that Carol Indilla, a Senior P. C. Analyst with the District Court in Central Islip, is being honored today as Employee of the Month for February.

Carol began her career in the courts of Suffolk County over 27 years ago as an Office Assistant in the Suffolk County Family Court. In April of 1981, Carol transferred to Suffolk County District Court, Criminal Department, where she worked for the next 7 years as a Data Entry Clerk and Senior Office Typist. In February of 1988, Carol was promoted to Principal Office Assistant and assigned to the Probate Department in the Suffolk County Surrogate's Court where she remained until her transfer back to the Criminal Department of the District Court in October of 1988. Later, in September of 1994, Carol became the Data Entry Supervisor for the Criminal Department of the District Court. It was in June of 1999 when Carol was appointed to the position of P.C. Analyst and assigned to the District Court in Central Islip. Most recently, Carol was promoted to the position of Senior P. C. Analyst for the District Court in September of 2003.

As a Senior P.C. Analyst, Carol is responsible for a wide variety of duties relating to the support and maintenance of the computer equipment located in the District Court, Central Islip as well as in the outlying district courts. Her responsibilities include providing on-site and telephone instruction and support to judicial and non-judicial court personnel in the District Court on various issues relating to computer software and hardware.

Carol, a resident of the Village of Port Jefferson, is the proud mother of two children, Brittany, age 14 and John, age 7. Needless to say, they are very proud of their mother.

Carol is being recognized for the terrific job she does in the District Court as a P.C. Analyst. Over the years, she has become known for being a hard working and dedicated employee who takes great pride in helping her fellow employees with their computer problems. As she goes about her job each day, Carol remains positive, cheerful and energetic. Her fellow District Court employees have come to rely on her expertise in handling any computer problem that may come their way. Consistently, day in and day out, Carol performs her duties in an exemplary fashion and with a professional attitude. She always strives to broaden her knowledge of computers so that she can better serve her colleagues in the District Court.

In sum, Carol is truly a team player whose superior performance of her duties reflects so positively on each and every Suffolk County court employee. For all of the above and more, Carol is most deserving of February's Employee of the Month Award.
