

APPLY NOW

APPLICATIONS NOW BEING ACCEPTED FOR TWO NEW YORK STATE LOCAL WORKSHOPS ON SCHOOL-JUSTICE PARTNERSHIPS: KEEPING KIDS IN SCHOOL AND OUT OF COURT

The New York State Permanent Judicial Commission on Justice for Children and the Division of Criminal Justice Services invite you to assemble a team and apply for a slot for either or both of these no cost workshops. APPLY SOON...AND BEFORE SEPTEMBER 17, 2014.

School Arrest Diversion—Memorandum of Agreement Workshop: November 12-13, 2014

Judge Steven Teske, Chief Judge, Juvenile Court, Clayton County, GA, and his team – School Superintendent, Chief of Police for Schools, Administrator of the Clayton County System of Care, Chief of Staff of Juvenile Court, and Applied Leadership Network Leader for Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative – will work with stakeholders to organize and create a plan to develop a written agreement that will reduce school referrals to court. The team will also work with stakeholders to develop a plan of building a collective impact system unique to their community that is the "bridge" between the school system and community providers to refer chronically disruptive students for assessment and services to reduce student misbehavior and promote the likelihood of graduation.

School Climate Workshop: November 19-20, 2014

Richard Cardillo, Director of Education, and Jessica Savage, Esq., Policy and Legal Director, at the National School Climate Center will work with stakeholders to organize and create a plan to address these questions: Are you and your students eager to come to school each day? Do they feel safe and engaged in learning and school life? Does your school measure and recognize the social, emotional and civic dimensions of learning? Do you use school climate data to build community, shape implementation efforts, promote safe and 'connected' schools?
