

Todd Arena

Todd Arena joined the staff of Albany Law School as a Community Development Clinic Staff Attorney in August 2019. He serves with the Director and other Staff Attorney of the Community Development Clinic in providing pro-bono representation to individuals and groups, from low-income communities in the Capital Region, in forming small businesses and nonprofit organizations; raising capital and financing from traditional and alternative sources; and assists local community-based groups in ongoing campaigns. Prior to Albany Law School, Todd was at O'Melveny & Myers LLP. Todd received his J.D. from Columbia Law School in 2009 and his B.A. in Philosophy & Economics from the University of Arizona in 2005.