INTRODUCTION BY HON. JUDY HARRIS KLUGER

In 2009, Governor David A. Paterson signed into law a bill that amended the Rockefeller Drug Laws. The new law, Criminal Procedure Law Article 216: Judicial Diversion Program for Certain Felony Offenders, authorizes a court to divert eligible felony offenders into substance abuse treatment programs. To comply with this legislation, the Unified Court System (UCS) through the Office of Court Drug Treatment Programs (OCDTP) embarked on an almost year-long process to plan for and implement a case processing system that would fulfill the intent of the legislation. The statewide plans focused on court operations, resources and training. In support of these efforts, the UCS received federal stimulus funding which enabled us to hire court staff, develop seven new treatment courts, provide several statewide training programs and modify the Universal Treatment Application (UTA).

The OCDTP worked collaboratively with other state agencies, including the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS), the Division of Probation and Correctional Alternatives (DPCA) and the Division of Parole, as well as the Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services (OASAS) to prepare for the changes associated with the new law. Among the many accomplishments associated with this coordinated approach was the development of a standardized consent form for referrals to OASAS licensed chemical dependence treatment providers. The utilization of this form assists in tracking defendants/participants through treatment programs and collects recidivism information.

To capture statewide statistical information, the OCDTP worked closely with the UCS Department of Technology. New features were included in the UTA to track case information and the growth of the drug treatment courts. Statewide training on the new features was provided and ongoing training is available for new staff.

With the hiring of new staff and new drug court teams, as well as the addition of many new judges to preside over drug treatment and judicial diversion parts, training was a critical component of the implementation process. The OCDTP collaborated with the Center for Court Innovation to design programs and provide training at the NYS Judicial Institute. Additionally, a series of statewide webinars were presented. Staff from the OCDTP also worked closely with the district offices to provide on-site regional trainings.

To monitor the implementation process, the OCDTP convened a Judicial Diversion Team that meets on a regular basis to review statewide operational concerns, develop training and education programs, discuss fiscal matters and review research and technology updates. Staff from the OCDTP communicates regularly with the district offices to provide technical assistance and participate on interview panels.

As you can see, 2009 has been a very busy year. The implementation of the new legislation was an enormous undertaking for the court system. I appreciate the collaborative efforts of the other state agencies and the drug court teams that worked diligently and efficiently throughout the process. And, I would especially like to recognize the judges, UCS court staff, district attorneys, defense bar, local law enforcement, probation departments, departments of social services, treatment providers and other service agencies who have dedicated their time and effort to make their drug treatment courts work. I thank them for their participation in our statewide drug treatment court program and look forward to continuing our work together.

OFFICE OF COURT DRUG TREATMENT PROGRAMS

The first drug treatment courts opened in New York State in the 1990's. Recognizing their positive impact on communities and the criminal justice system, former Chief Judge Judith Kaye convened an independent commission to examine the impact of drug cases on New York State courts and to make recommendations for future reforms. Following the recommendation of the Commission to make drug treatment courts available in every jurisdiction, in October 2000, the Office of Court Drug Treatment Programs (OCDTP) was created.

Under the direction of the Chief of Policy and Planning, this office is responsible for the statewide implementation, expansion and support of drug treatment courts. The OCDTP works with the District and County Administrative Judge's Office in each Judicial District to provide support and ongoing assistance to New York's drug treatment courts. The OCDTP also works with offices within the Unified Court System (UCS) to provide drug courts with coordination and operational assistance. Some of the OCDTP's roles and responsibilities are:

Leadership

The OCDTP operates under the umbrella of the Office of Court Administration (OCA) and works to implement the Chief Judge's goals. To this extent, the Office establishes and maintains relationships with state and national agencies and associations involved with treatment courts; participates in a number of projects with other state agencies, including drug court research; and provides technical assistance on issues related to drug treatment courts.

Operations

The OCDTP has regional project managers who respond to requests for technical assistance and work with each District Office to implement and support the operations of each treatment court. Collaboratively, the Offices identify preferred practices and innovative procedures and develop and implement statewide treatment court policies and procedures. The District Offices may contact the OCDTP to discuss and problem-solve issues concerning the operation of their drug treatment courts.

Human Resources

Drug treatment courts are supported by UCS staff, including case managers and coordinators. The OCDTP participates on interview panels for available positions in the drug treatment courts; makes recommendations on Requests for Reclassification; participates in the development of Personnel Title Standards; and makes recommendations on appropriate work volume by title.

Fiscal

The UCS Budget Office handles all financial matters for the court system. The OCDTP submits budget proposals to the Budget Office to support statewide drug treatment court projects, such as trainings, new courts and requests for new positions.

Technology

The use of technology is a critical component in New York's treatment courts. New York utilizes a statewide management information system called the Universal Treatment Application (UTA). Among many other uses, the data received is used to provide national statistics and assist in research. The OCDTP provides training for UTA users and incorporates user feedback to develop enhancements and modifications to meet state and local needs. The Office also establishes and maintains the Problem-Solving Courts Section of the UCS Intranet website and participates in the development of new computer programs and applications.

Training

The OCDTP recognizes that ongoing training is important to the development and operation of treatment courts. The Office works with the Center for Court Innovation and national training experts to conduct statewide training sessions for new UCS employees and non-UCS team members and for entire drug court teams. The Office also works with individual courts to develop and implement forums to speak to the community about treatment courts and, upon request, conducts special on-site trainings on a variety of topics.

CRIMINAL DRUG TREATMENT COURTS

Criminal drug treatment courts (DTC) operate statewide in the Supreme Courts, County Courts, City Courts, District Courts, New York City Criminal Courts and in a limited number of Town and Village Courts. As of December 31, 2009, there were 94 operational criminal drug treatment courts throughout the state.

Defendants facing felony or misdemeanor charges where drug addiction is a component of their offense may be eligible to participate in a criminal DTC program. Those who successfully complete their drug treatment court program may have their charges dismissed or reduced or may receive a reduction in their sentence. The goal is to have a criminal DTC in every county in New York State.

The map below highlights in green, counties where at least one criminal DTC is operational.

FAMILY DRUG TREATMENT COURTS

Family drug treatment courts (FDTC) target respondents in neglect petitions where substance abuse is a component of the allegations. Respondents who successfully complete the program are reunited with their children in the great majority of cases. Additionally, successful participants in the FDTC program often receive more liberal contact with their children prior to graduation.

As of December 31, 2009 FDTCs were operational in 55 counties statewide.

The map below highlights in green, counties where an FDTC is operational.

JUVENILE DRUG TREATMENT COURTS

Participants in the juvenile drug treatment courts (JDTC) are facing either Juvenile Delinquency (JD) or Person In Need of Supervision (PINS) petitions in the Family Court where substance abuse forms some component of the pending petition. Successful participation in the juvenile drug treatment court program generally results in the dismissal of the pending petition.

As of December 31, 2009 over 150 juveniles were being served in 23 operational JDTC throughout the state. The locations of these courts are indicated in green, on the map below. (Not shown are the locations of four young adult drug treatment courts which are operational in the criminal courts (targeting the 16 to 21 year old population)).

Juvenile drug treatment courts are considered to be in a developmental phase as different models are currently being studied and evaluated for effectiveness in jurisdictions around the country.

2009 STATISTICAL INFORMATION

New York State Drug Treatment Courts serve thousands of participants each year. The total number of active participants fluctuates each month based on a number of factors including the number of graduates, the number of cases screened for participation and the number of cases determined to be eligible. The chart below indicates the total number of active participants in each month in 2009. The average number of active participants per month was 7,253.

New York State Drug Treatment Courts
2009 Total Active Participants

The 2009 statistical information contained in the charts to follow was obtained from the Universal Treatment Application (UTA), an electronic management information system updated and maintained by staff in each of our drug treatment courts. The data includes a breakdown of the participants' drug of choice, top arrest charge, percentage of eligibility, reasons for ineligibility, age, gender and ethnicity. For the criminal and family drug treatment courts, these statistics are presented in three categories: statewide, courts within New York City and courts outside of New York City. The statistics for the juvenile drug treatment courts, which only exist outside of New York City, are presented in a modified format.

Drug of Choice

The following charts summarize the reported "Drug of Choice" for individuals who were screened for drug treatment court in 2009 and ultimately became participants. The top five reported drugs were marijuana, alcohol, crack cocaine, heroin and cocaine powder. While methamphetamine use was not a significant factor in our drug treatment courts in 2009, information on methamphetamines is included as this drug has had a significant impact on other states nationwide.

Screening Eligibility

Potential drug treatment court participants are screened to determine if they conform to the requirements of the local drug treatment court program. This includes both a preliminary drug screen, to determine if they have a substance abuse problem and, a legal screen, to determine if their offense falls within the range of charges the drug treatment court was designed to address.

The following charts summarize the results of this screening process to show those potential participants who were found to be eligible or ineligible for the drug treatment court program. In addition, for the potential participants who were found to be eligible, information is provided concerning how many joined or refused participation in the drug treatment court program.

2009 STATISTICAL INFORMATION JUVENILE DRUG TREATMENT COURTS

Information presented on the juvenile drug treatment court program is different than the information presented in the criminal and family court programs. This is because there are far fewer juvenile drug treatment courts as compared to the criminal and family treatment courts. Moreover, there are no juvenile drug treatment courts in New York City; therefore, information is not broken out between courts inside and outside New York City.

Drug of Choice

The following chart summarizes the reported "Drug of Choice" identified by individuals who were screened for and ultimately participated in juvenile drug treatment court in 2009. In all judicial districts, the overwhelming drug of choice was marijuana.
