

BIO FOR ALIDA CAMP

Alida Camp is a full-time mediator/arbitrator. She specializes in alternative dispute resolution of entertainment (including art), construction, commercial, employment, and securities cases. In addition to her private practice, she is a mediator for the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York, New York Supreme Court (Commercial Division), Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts, U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, a mediator and arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association and FINRA (the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority), and a member of the roster of neutrals for CPR.

Ms. Camp has organized and presented programs on mediation and arbitration, including mediation advocacy and breaking impasse, at bar associations, law firms, PLI, and not-for-profit organizations. She has guest lectured on mediation to students at Columbia University Law School, has trained New York Law School students in their Small Claims Court mediations, and has conducted two-day mediation trainings for Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts.

A Fellow of the American Bar Association, Ms. Camp has been actively involved in promoting the use of ADR through her roles as former co-chair of the American Bar Association Entertainment ADR Committee and a former member of the New York City Bar Association ADR and Art Law Committees. She was named an Entertainment Industry Power Mediator by the Hollywood Reporter and an Outstanding Volunteer by Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts. Ms. Camp is a member of the New York State Supreme Court Commercial Division ADR Advisory Committee.

Ms. Camp holds a J.D. degree with honors from the Columbia University School of Law and is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate with a B.A. in psychology with honors from SUNY Binghamton.