Note: While time expended is an important consideration in fixing fees, the Court also gives great weight to other factors, such as the difficulty of the case, the diligence with which the assignment was completed, and the competence and skill of counsel in the performance of services. Please note that for services rendered prior to 1/1/04, section §722 of the County Law limits compensation for services on a felony appeal to a maximum of $1,200 and on any other criminal, habeas corpus or Family Court appeal to a maximum of $800, absent a showing of extraordinary circumstances. For services rendered after 1/1/04, §722 limits compensation for any appeal to $4,400, absent a showing of extraordinary circumstances.
