Penal Law § 215.12(2)
(Committed on or after Sept. 1, 1982)

The (specify) count is Tampering with a Witness in the Second Degree.

Under our law, a person is guilty of Tampering with a Witness in the Second Degree when he or she intentionally causes physical injury to a person on account of such person or another person having testified in a criminal proceeding.

The following terms used in that definition have a special meaning:

CRIMINAL PROCEEDING means any proceeding which (a) constitutes a part of a criminal action or (b) occurs in a criminal court and is related to a prospective, pending or completed criminal action, either of this state or of any other jurisdiction, or involves a criminal investigation.¹

PHYSICAL INJURY means impairment of physical condition or substantial pain.²

Intent means conscious objective or purpose. Thus, a person INTENTIONALLY causes physical injury to a person when that person's conscious objective or purpose is to do so.³

In order for you to find the defendant guilty of this crime,

¹ CPL 1.20(18). The term "criminal action," used in the definition of "criminal proceeding," is defined in CPL 1.20(16), and that definition in turn employs terms that also are defined in CPL 1.20. When in issue, these definitions should be provided.

² Penal Law § 10.00(9); See People v. Chiddick, 8 NY3d 445 (2007).

³ See Penal Law § 15.05(1).

the People are required to prove, from all the evidence in the case, beyond a reasonable doubt, both of the following elements:

1. That on or about (date), in the county of (county), the defendant, (defendant's name), intentionally caused physical injury to (specify)
2. That the defendant did so on account of such person or another person having testified in a criminal proceeding.

If you find the People have proven beyond a reasonable doubt both of those elements, you must find the defendant guilty of this crime.

If you find the People have not proven beyond a reasonable doubt either one or both of those elements, you must find the defendant not guilty of this crime.
