Finding the Official Reports Electronically

The New York Official Reports are available in three electronic locations:

1. New York Slip Opinion Service (available on the LRB website)
2. New York Official Reports Service (available on the LRB website)
3. Thomson Reuters Westlaw (via the New York Official Reports content category)

The Official Reports, comprised of the New York Reports, Appellate Division Reports, and Miscellaneous Reports, are the only official source of New York's common law. In addition to being the official text of New York court decisions, the Official Reports are professionally edited during a comprehensive and meticulous process to ensure accuracy of citations, quotations, and facts and to make stylistic and technical corrections. Aside from the print edition of the Official Reports, housed in the green bound volumes depicted below, the Official Reports are available only in the three electronic locations listed above.
New York Slip Opinion Service

About the Service

The New York Slip Opinion Service is available on the LRB website, www.nycourts.gov/reporter. The Slip Opinion Service provides free access to recently released decisions and motions prior to publication in the Official Reports, together with an electronic citation for each decision and motion. The Service is updated to include the professionally edited version of decisions that have been published in print.

The Slip Opinion Service also provides access to trial court opinions selected for online publication only, a dedicated database of decisions from the Commercial Division of the Supreme Court, and motion decisions of the Appellate Division and Appellate Term of the Supreme Court.

Decisions published as early as 2003 are available for most courts. Some trial court decisions decided prior to 2003 are included.
Access and Organization

The Slip Opinion Service is organized by court, type of decision and decision date. You may browse the Service by court and type of decision, or you may conduct a search using the Advanced Search feature.

To browse the Slip Opinion Service, navigate to the Service's home page by selecting the Slip Opinion Service hyperlink in the LRB website header under Decisions and use the hyperlinks on that page, which are organized by court and type of decision. Alternatively, use the hyperlinks in the LRB website header and footer under Decisions to navigate directly to a specific court.

To search decisions and motions in the Slip Opinion Service, use the Advanced Search feature. Navigate to Advanced Search by selecting the hyperlink at the top of the Service's home page or using the hyperlink in the LRB website header and footer under Decisions.

* Because trial court opinions may be submitted for publication at any time, those opinions are organized by publication—rather than decision—date.
New York Slip Opinion Service

New York Official Reports Service

Paul Williams, Appellant.

Court of Appeals of New York

34

Argued February 19, 2015

Decided April 7, 2015

---

CITE TITLE AS: People v Williams

SUMMARY

Appeal, by permission of an Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, from an order of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the Fourth Judicial Department, entered June 7, 2013. The Appellate Division modified, on the law, and, as modified, affirmed a judgment of the Onondaga County Court (William D. Walsh, J.), which had convicted defendant, upon a jury verdict, of sexual abuse in the first degree, rape in the third degree and criminal impersonation in the first degree. The modification consisted of (1) vacating that part of the judgment convicting defendant of first-degree criminal impersonation and dismissing that count of the superseding indictment, and (2) vacating the sentence imposed on the third-degree rape conviction. The Appellate Division remitted the matter to County Court for resentencing on the third-degree rape conviction.

People v Williams, 107 AD3d 1391, reversed.

HEADNOTES

- Crimes
- Right to Remain Silent
- Evidence of Defendant's Selective Silence during Custodial Interrogation—Impermissible Use by Prosecutor during Case-in-Chief

(1) As a matter of state evidentiary law, evidence of a defendant’s selective silence generally may not be used by the People as part of their case-in-chief, either to allow the jury to infer the defendant’s admission of guilt or to impeach the credibility of the defendant’s version of events when the defendant has not testified. Thus, in a prosecution for rape, burglary and related crimes arising after defendant allegedly gained entry to his ex-girlfriend’s apartment by means of a ruse and then raped her,

New York Official Reports
Law Reports Style Manual

For more than 50 years, the New York Law Reports Style Manual has been issued by the Law Reporting Bureau with the approval of the Court of Appeals as a guide for New York judges and their staffs in the preparation of opinions for publication in the Official Reports. It also prescribes the style applied by the LRB in editing the opinions for publication in the Reports. The Style Manual provides a guide for opinion writers and editors in five primary areas: citation, abbreviation, capitalization, quotation, and word style and usage. Additionally, it specifies for editors the format and typographical standards for the Reports.

The current version of the Style Manual, effective December 1, 2017, is available in HTML and Adobe PDF format below. The online version is updated annually. Information concerning the availability of print copies of the Style Manual may be obtained from the Law Reporting Bureau by email (LRBpublications@nycourts.gov), phone (518-453-6900), or mail (17 Lodge Street, Albany, NY 12207).
