COUNTY COURT: STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF WESTCHESTER

DARREN ANDREWS,

Defendant.

SCHWARTZ, J.,

AMENDED DECISION & ORDER

Indict. No. 17-0745

This decision supersedes the decision and order of this court filed and entered on March 8, 2018.

Defendant, DARREN ANDREWS , having been indicted on or about November 21, 2017 for two counts of criminal possession of a control substance in the third degree, as a felony (PL §220.16[01]), two counts of criminal possession of a control substance in the fourth degree, as a felony (PL §220.09[01]), two counts of criminal possession of a control substance in the seventh degree, as a misdemeanor (PL §220.03), has filed an omnibus motion which consists of a Notice of Motion, an Affirmation in Support and a Memorandum of Law. In response, the People have filed an Affirmation in Opposition together with a Memorandum of Law. Upon consideration of these papers, the stenographic transcript of the grand jury minutes and the Consent Discovery Order entered in this case, this court disposes of this motion as follows:

A. MOTION TO INSPECT, DISMISS AND/OR REDUCE CPL ARTICLE 190

The court grants the defendant's motion to the limited extent that the court has conducted, with the consent of the People, an in camera inspection of the stenographic transcription of the grand jury proceedings. Upon such review, the court finds no basis upon which to grant defendant's application to dismiss or reduce the indictment.

The indictment contains a plain and concise factual statement in each count which, without allegations of an evidentiary nature, asserts facts supporting every element of the offense charged and the defendant's commission thereof with sufficient precision as to clearly apprise the defendant of the conduct which is the subject of the indictment (CPL 200.50). The indictment charges each and every element of the crimes and alleges that the defendant committed the acts which constitute the crimes at a specified place during a specified time period and, therefore, is sufficient on its face (People v Cohen, 52 NY2d 584 [1981]; People v Iannone, 45 NY2d 589 [1978]).

MAR 26 2018

TIMOTHY C. IDONI
COUNTY CLERK
COUNTY OF WESTCHESTER

The defendant, who bears the burden of refuting with substantial evidence the presumption of regularity which attaches to official court proceedings (People v Pichardo, 168 AD2d 577 2d Dept 1990)), has offered no sworn factual allegations, in support of his argument that the grand jury proceedings were defective. The minutes reveal a quorum of the grand jurors was present during the presentation of evidence, that the Assistant District Attorney properly instructed the grand jury on the law, and only permitted those grand jurors who heard all the evidence to vote the matter (see People v Calbud, 49 NY2d 389 [1980]; People v Valles, 62 NY2d 36 [1984]; People v Burch, 108 AD3d 679 [2d Dept 2013]).

The evidence presented, if accepted as true, is legally sufficient to establish every element of each offense charged (CPL 210.30[2]). “Courts assessing the sufficiency of the evidence before a grand jury must evaluate whether the evidence, viewed most favorably to the People, if unexplained and uncontradicted--and deferring all questions as to the weight or quality of the evidence--would warrant conviction” (People v Mills, 1 NY3d 269, 274-275 [2002]). Legally sufficient evidence means competent evidence which, if accepted as true, would establish every element of an offense charged and the defendant’s commission thereof (CPL 70.10[1]; see People v Flowers, 138 AD3d 1138, 1139 [2d Dept 2016]). “In the context of a Grand Jury proceeding, legal sufficiency means prima facie proof of the crimes charged, not proof beyond a reasonable doubt” (People v Jessup, 90 AD3d 782, 783 [2d Dept 2011]). “The reviewing court’s inquiry is limited to whether the facts, if proven, and the inferences that logically flow from those facts supply proof of every element of the charged crimes, and whether the Grand Jury could rationally have drawn the guilty inference. That other, innocent inferences could possibly be drawn from those facts is irrelevant to the sufficiency inquiry as long as the Grand Jury could rationally have drawn the guilty inference” (People v Bello, 92 NY2d 523, 526 [1998]).

Based upon the in camera review, since this court does not find release of the grand jury minutes or any portion thereof necessary to assist it in making any determinations and as the defendant has not set forth a compelling or particularized need for the production of the grand jury minutes, defendant’s application for a copy of the grand jury minutes is denied (People v Jang, 17 AD3d 693 [2d Dept 2005]; CPL 190.25[4][a]).

B. MOTION TO SUPPRESS NOTICED STATEMENTS

This branch of the defendant’s motion seeking to suppress statements on the grounds that they were unconstitutionally obtained is granted to the extent that a Huntley hearing shall be held prior to trial to determine whether any statements allegedly made by the defendant, which have been noticed by the People pursuant to CPL 710.30 (1)(a), were involuntarily made by the defendant within the meaning of CPL 60.45 (see CPL 710.20 (3); CPL 710.60[3][b]; People v Weaver, 49 NY2d 1012 [1980]), obtained in violation of defendant’s Sixth Amendment right to counsel, and/or obtained in violation of the defendant’s Fourth Amendment rights (see Dunaway v New York, 442 US 200 [1979]).

To the extent defendant’s motion seeks to strike the noticed statements on the grounds they do not meet the requirements of CPL 710.30, that branch of the motion is denied as the noticed statements state the time, place and sum and substance of the statements as required to be sufficient (see People v Lopez, 84 NY2d 425, 428 [1994]).

C. MOTION TO STRIKE & SUPPRESS IDENTIFICATION TESTIMONY PURSUANT TO CPL 710

The motion to strike the identification notice is denied. This motion to suppress it is granted to the limited extent of conducting a hearing prior to trial to determine whether the identifying witness had a sufficient prior familiarity with the defendant as to render them impervious to police suggestion (People v Rodriguez, 79 NY 2d 445 [1992]). In the event the Court finds that there was not a sufficient prior familiarity with the defendant on the part of the witness, the Court will then consider whether or not the noticed identification was unduly suggestive (United States v Wade, 388 US 218 [1967]). Specifically, the Court shall determine whether the identifications were so improperly suggestive as to taint any in-court identification. In the event the identifications are found to be unduly suggestive, the Court shall then go on to consider whether the People have proven by clear and convincing evidence that an independent source exists for such witness' proposed in-court identification.

D. MOTION for DISCOVERY, DISCLOSURE and INSPECTION CPL ARTICLE 240

The parties have entered into a stipulation by way of a Consent Discovery Order consenting to the enumerated discovery in this case. Defendant's motion for discovery is granted to the extent provided for in Criminal Procedure Law Article 240. If there any further items discoverable pursuant to Criminal Procedure Law Article 240 which have not been provided to defendant pursuant to the Consent Discovery Order, they are to be provided forthwith.

As to the defendant's demand for exculpatory material, the People have acknowledged their continuing duty to disclose exculpatory material at the earliest possible date upon its discovery (see Brady v Maryland, 373 US 83 [1963]; Giglio v United States, 405 US 150 [1972]). In the event that the People are or become aware of any material which is arguably exculpatory, and they are not willing to consent to its disclosure to the defendant, they are directed to immediately disclose such material to the Court to permit an in camera inspection and determination as to whether such must be disclosed to the defendant.

Defendant's motion for a further Bill of Particulars is denied. The Bill of Particulars set forth in the Consent Discovery Order provided to the defendant has adequately informed the defendant of the substance of his alleged conduct and in all respects complies with CPL 200.95.

Except to the extent that the defendant's application has been specifically granted herein, it is otherwise denied as seeking material or information beyond the scope of discovery (see People v Colavito, 87 NY2d 423 [1996]; Matter of Brown v Grosso, 285 AD2d 642 [2d Dept 2001]; Matter of Brown v Appelman, 241 AD2d 279 [2d Dept 1998]; Matter of Catterson v Jones, 229 AD2d 435 [2d Dept 1996]; Matter of Catterson v Rohl, 202 AD2d 420 [2d Dept 1994]).

E. MOTION TO CONTROVERT SEARCH WARRANT

Defendant moves for a hearing to controvert the search warrant issued for Incident #16-51843 and argues all physical evidence seized on June 14, 2016 pursuant to the warrant must be suppressed. The defendant argues that is because the warrant in question was allegedly issued on June 17, 2017, after the seizure of physical evidence. Thus, the police executed the search without the warrant in their possession and were not authorized to do so. However, this argument is without merit as a review of the warrant shows it was in fact issued by the court on June 14, 2016. Moreover, a defendant is not entitled to such a hearing on this basis even if it were true. A hearing to controvert a search warrant is not appropriate absent a preliminary showing the application's supporting affidavit contained false statements (see People v Lassiter, 151 AD3d 855 [2d Dept 2017]).

The defendant also moves for a hearing to controvert the warrant by challenging the sufficiency of the search warrant's supporting affidavit. "A search warrant that has been approved by a reviewing magistrate is cloaked with a presumption of validity... [S]earch warrant applications should not be read in a hypertechnical manner as if they were entries in an essay contest[,] ... [but] must be considered in the clear light of everyday experience and accorded all reasonable inferences" (People v Rogers, 94 AD3d 1246, 1247–48 [3d Dept 2012] [internal citations omitted]). Here, a review of the supporting affidavit shows it was sufficient and there was probable cause to support issuance of the warrant. The affidavit contained sworn allegations of fact to support a reasonable belief that evidence of a crime may have been found in defendant's home (see id.).

Accordingly, the defendant's motion for a hearing to controvert the search warrant is denied.

F. MOTION TO SUPPRESS PHYSICAL EVIDENCE

This branch of the defendant's motion is granted solely to the extent of conducting a Mapp/Dunaway hearing prior to trial to determine the propriety of any search resulting in the seizure of property (see Mapp v Ohio, 367 US 643[1961]). The hearing will also address whether any evidence was obtained in violation of the defendant's Fourth Amendment rights (see Dunaway v New York, 442 US 200 [1979]). In accord with the above, at the hearing the defendant will not be permitted to controvert the facts alleged in the June 14, 2016 warrant application for Incident #16-51843.

G. MOTION FOR SANDOVAL AND VENTIMIGLIA HEARINGS

Defendant has moved for a pre-trial hearing to permit the trial court to determine the extent, if at all, to which the People may inquire into the defendant's prior criminal convictions, prior uncharged criminal, vicious or immoral conduct. The People have consented to a Sandoval hearing. Accordingly, it is ordered that immediately prior to trial a hearing shall be conducted pursuant to People v Sandoval (34 NY2d 371[1974]). At said hearing, the People shall be required to notify the defendant of all specific instances of defendant's criminal, prior uncharged criminal, vicious or immoral conduct of which they have knowledge and which they intend to use in an attempt to impeach the defendant's credibility if the defendant elects to testify at trial (CPL 240.43).

At the hearing, the defendant shall bear the burden of identifying any instances of defendant's prior misconduct that defendant submits the People should not be permitted to use to impeach defendant's credibility. The defendant shall be required to identify the basis of defendant's belief that each event or incident may be unduly prejudicial to defendant's ability to testify as a witness on defendant's own behalf (see People v Matthews, 68 NY2d 118 [1986]; People v Malphurs, 111 AD2d 266 [2d Dept 1985]).

Defendant's application for a hearing, pursuant to People v Ventimiglia (52 NY2d 350 [1981]) is denied since the People have not indicated an intention to use evidence of any prior bad act or uncharged crimes of the defendant during its case in chief (see People v Molineaux, 168 NY2d 264 [1991]). If the People move to introduce such evidence, the defendant may renew this aspect of the motion.

H. MOTION FOR PRODUCTION of CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANTS

The defendant's request for a Darden/Goggins hearing is denied. Defendant moves for disclosure of the identity of informants without stating what relevant testimony any such witness would have on the issue of his innocence or guilt. (People v Goggins, 34 NY2d 163 [1974]; People v Pena, 37 NY2d 642 [1975]; People v Chavis, 113 AD2d 896, 897 [2d Dept 1985]).

I. MOTION FOR TIME TO FILE FUTURE MOTIONS

This motion is denied. Any future motion must be brought by way of order to show cause setting forth reasons as to why said motion was not brought in conformity with CPL 255.20.

J. MOTION TO SEVER COUNTS

The defendant moves to sever the counts related to each of the underlying incidents from each other, creating, in effect, separate indictments. The court finds that the counts were properly joined pursuant to CPL §200.20(2)(c) which authorizes joinder of charges that are based upon different criminal transactions when those charges are defined by the same or similar statutory provisions and consequently are the same or similar in law. The court finds that the charges are properly joined and the defendant has not demonstrated that he would be unfairly prejudiced by a trial on all the joined charges. Moreover “. . . a strong public policy favors joinder, because it expedites the judicial process, reduces court congestion, and avoids the necessity of recalling witnesses . . .” (People v Mahboubian, 74 NY2d 174, 183 [1989]). The defendant's motion is, therefore, denied.

K. MOTION TO CONDUCT PRE-TRIAL HEARINGS
20 DAYS BEFORE TRIAL

The defendant's motion to schedule pre-trial hearings 20 days prior to trial is denied. The hearings will be scheduled at a time that is convenient to the court, upon due consideration of all its other cases and obligations.

L. MOTION TO DISMISS FOR PRE-INDICTMENT DELAY (CPL § 30.20)

Defendant moves for dismissal of the indictment on the ground that he has been denied a speedy trial pursuant to CPL § 30.20. The following factors are examined in balancing the merits of defendant's assertion that there has been a denial of his right to a speedy trial: (1) the extent of the delay; (2) the reason for the delay; (3) the nature of the underlying charge; (4) whether or not there has been an extended period of pretrial incarceration; and (5) whether or not there is any indication that the defense has been impaired by reason of the delay. Defendant has failed to proffer sworn factual allegations demonstrating how the passage of time has prejudiced his defense or deprived him of due process in any detail other than in broad, sweeping conclusory allegations. As such, the motion to dismiss the indictment on this basis is denied.

The foregoing constitutes the decision and order of this court.
