ORDERED that this motion by plaintiff JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. seeking an order: 1) granting summary judgment striking the answer of defendant James W. Brockwell; 2) discontinuing the action against defendants designated as "John Doe and Jane Doe #1 through #7"; 3) deeming all appearing and non-appearing defendants in default; 4) amending the caption; and 5) appointing a referee to compute the sums due and owing to the plaintiff in this mortgage foreclosure action is granted; and it is further

ORDERED that plaintiff is directed to serve a copy of this order amending the caption upon the Calendar Clerk of the Court; and it is further ORDERED that plaintiff is directed to serve a copy of this order with notice of entry upon all parties who have appeared and not waived further notice pursuant to CPLR 2103(b)(1)(2) or (3) within thirty days of the date of this order and to promptly file the affidavits of service with the Clerk of the Court.

Plaintiff's action seeks to foreclose a mortgage in the original sum of $335,000.00 executed by defendant James W. Brockwell III on January 16, 2009 in favor of JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. On the same date mortgagor/borrower Brockwell executed a promissory note promising to re-pay the entire amount of the indebtedness to the mortgage lender. Plaintiff claims that the mortgagor defaulted by failing to make timely monthly mortgage payments beginning April 1, 2010 and continuing to date. Plaintiff commenced this action by filing a summons, complaint and notice of pendency in the Suffolk County Clerk's Office on April 20, 2012. Defendant Brockwell served an answer dated May 2, 2012 asserting seventeen (17) affirmative defenses.

Plaintiff's motion seeks an order granting summary judgment and for the appointment of a referee to compute the sums due and owing to the mortgage lender. In opposition, defendant claims that plaintiff has failed to prove compliance with RPAPL 1304 requirements and that plaintiff has failed to act in good faith to offer Brockwell a loan modification.

The proponent of a summary judgment motion must make a prima facie showing of entitlement to judgment as a matter of law, tendering sufficient evidence to eliminate any material question of fact from the case. The grant of summary judgment is appropriate only when it is clear that no material and triable issues of fact have been presented (Sillman v. Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp., 3 NY2d 395 (1957)). The moving party bears the initial burden of proving entitlement to summary judgment (Winegrad v. NYU Medical Center, 64 NY2d 851 (1985)). Once such proof has been proffered, the burden shifts to the opposing party who, to defeat the motion, must offer evidence in admissible form, and must set forth facts sufficient to require a trial of any issue of fact (CPLR 3212(b); Zuckerman v. City of New York, 49 NY2d 557 (1980)). Summary judgment shall only be granted when there are no issues of material fact and the evidence requires the court to direct a judgment in favor of the movant as a matter of law (Friends of Animals v. Associated Fur Manufacturers, 46 NY2d 1065 (1979)).

Entitlement to summary judgment in favor of the foreclosing plaintiff is established, prima facie by the plaintiff's production of the mortgage and the unpaid note, and evidence of default in payment (see Wells Fargo Bank N.A. v. Erobobo, 127 AD3d 1176, 9 NYS3d 312 (2nd Dept., 2015); Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Ali, 122 AD3d 726, 995 NYS2d 735 (2nd Dept., 2014)). Where the plaintiff's standing is placed in issue by the defendant's answer, the plaintiff must also establish its standing as part of its prima facie showing (Aurora Loan Services v. Taylor, 25 NY3d 355, 12 NYS3d 612 (2015); Loancare v. Firshing, 130 AD3d 787, 14 NYS3d 410 (2nd Dept., 2015); HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Baptiste, 128 AD3d 77, 10 NYS3d 255 (2nd Dept., 2015)). In a foreclosure action, a plaintiff has standing if it is either the holder of, or the assignee of, the underlying note at the time that the action is commenced (Aurora Loan Services v. Taylor, supra.; Emigrant Bank v. Larizza, 129 AD3d 94, 13 NYS3d 129 (2nd Dept., 2015)). Either a written assignment of the note or the physical transfer of the note to the plaintiff prior to commencement of the action is sufficient to transfer the obligation and to provide standing (Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Mandrin, 160 AD3d 1014 (2nd Dept., 2018) Tribeca Lending Corp. v. Lawson, 159 AD3d 936 (2nd Dept., 2018); Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Iarrobino, 159 AD3d 670 (2nd Dept., 2018); Central Mortgage Company v. Davis, 149 AD3d 898 (2nd Dept., 2017); U.S. Bank, N.A. v. Ehrenfeld, 144 AD3d 893, 41 NYS3d 269 (2nd Dept., 2016); JPMorgan Chase Bank v. Weinberger, 142 AD3d 643, 37 NYS3d 286 (2nd Dept., 2016); CitiMortgage, Inc. v. Klein, 140 AD3d 913, 33 NYS3d 432 (2nd Dept., 2016); U.S. Bank, N.A. v. Godwin, 137 AD3d 1260, 28 NYS3d 450 (2nd Dept., 2016); Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Joseph, 137 AD3d 896, 26 NYS3d 583 (2nd Dept., 2016); Emigrant Bank v. Larizza, supra.; Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Whalen, 107 AD3d 931, 969 NYS2d 82 (2nd Dept., 2013); Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Parker, 125 AD3d 848, 5 NYS3d 130 (2nd Dept., 2015); U.S. Bank v. Guy, 125 AD3d 845, 5 NYS3d 116 (2nd Dept., 2015)). A plaintiff's attachment of a duly indorsed note to its complaint or to the certificate of merit required pursuant to CPLR 3012(b), has been held to constitute due proof of the plaintiff's standing to prosecute its claims for foreclosure and sale (Nationstar Mortgage, LLC v. LaPorte, 162 AD3d 784, 75 NYS3d 432 (2nd Dept., 2018); Bank of New York Mellon v. Theobalds, 161 AD3d 1137 (2nd Dept., 2018); HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Oscar, 161 AD3d 1055, 78 NYS3d 428 (2nd Dept., 2018); CitiMortgage, Inc. v. McKenzie, 161 AD3d 1040, 78 NYS3d 200 (2nd Dept., 2018); U.S. Bank, N.A. v. Duthie, 161 AD3d 809, 76 NYS3d 226 (2nd Dept., 2018); Bank of New York Mellon v. Genova, 159 AD3d 1009, 74 NYS3d 64 (2nd Dept., 2018); Mariners Atl. Portfolio, LLC v. Hector, 159 AD3d 686, 69 NYS3d 502 (2nd Dept., 2018); Bank of New York Mellon v. Burke, 155 AD3d 932, 64 NYS3d 114 (2nd Dept., 2017); JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. v. Weinberger, 142 AD3d 643, 37 NYS3d 286 (2nd Dept., 2016); FNMA v. Yakaputz II, Inc., 141 AD3d 506, 35 NYS3d 236 (2nd Dept., 2016); Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Leigh, 137 AD3d 841, 28 NYS3d 86 (2nd Dept., 2016); Nationstar Mortgage LLC v. Catizone, 127 AD3d 1151, 9 NYS3d 315 (2nd Dept., 2015)).

Proper service of RPAPL 1304 notices on borrower(s) are conditions precedent to the commencement of a foreclosure action, and the plaintiff has the burden of establishing compliance with this condition (Aurora Loan Services, LLC v. Weisblum, 85 AD3d 95, 923 NYS2d 609 (2nd Dept., 2011); First National Bank of Chicago v. Silver, 73 AD3d 162, 899 NYS2d 256 (2nd Dept., 2010)). RPAPL 1304(2) provides that notice be sent by registered or certified mail and by first-class mail to the last known address of the borrower(s), and if different, to the residence that is the subject of the mortgage. The notice is considered given as of the date it is mailed and must be sent in a separate envelope from any other mailing or notice and the notice must be in 14-point type.

At issue is whether the evidence submitted by the plaintiff is sufficient to establish its right to foreclose. The defendant does not contest his failure to make timely payments due under the terms of the promissory note and mortgage agreement for the past nine (9) years. Rather, the issues raised by the defendant concern whether the proof submitted by the mortgage lender provides sufficient admissible evidence to prove its entitlement to summary judgment based upon defendant's continuing default, plaintiff's compliance with statutory pre-foreclosure noticerequirements, and plaintiff's failure to act in good faith to offer defendant a loan modification.

CPLR 4518 provides:

Business records.

(a) Generally. Any writing or record, whether in the form of an entry in a book or otherwise, made as a memorandum or record of any act, transaction, occurrence or event, shall be admissible in evidence in proof of that act, transaction, occurrence or event, if the judge finds that it was made in the regular course of any business and that it was the regular course of such business to make it, at the time of the act, transaction, occurrence or event, or within a reasonable time thereafter.

The Court of Appeals in People v. Guidice, 83 NY2d 630, 635, 612 NYS2d 350 (1994) explained that “the essence of the business records exception to the hearsay rule is that records systematically made for the conduct of business... are inherently highly trustworthy because they are routine reflections of day-to-day operations and because the entrant's obligation is to have them truthful and accurate for purposes of the conduct of the enterprise.” (quoting People v. Kennedy, 68 NY2d 569, 579, 510 NYS2d 853 (1986)). It is a unique hearsay exception since it represents hearsay deliberately created and differs from all other hearsay exceptions which assume that declarations which come within them were not made deliberately with litigation in mind. Since a business record keeping system may be designed to meet the hearsay exception, it is important to provide predictability in this area and discretion should not normally be exercised to exclude such evidence on grounds not foreseeable at the time the record was made (see Trotti v. Estate of Buchanan, 272 AD2d 660, 706 NYS2d 534 (3rd Dept., 2000)).

The three foundational requirements of CPLR 4518(a) are: 1) the record must be made in the regular course of business- reflecting a routine, regularly conducted business activity, needed and relied upon in the performance of business functions; 2) it must be the regular course of business to make the records- (i.e. the record is made in accordance with established procedures for the routine, systematic making of the record); and 3) the record must have been made at the time of the act, transaction, occurrence or event, or within a reasonable time thereafter, assuring that the recollection is fairly accurate and the entries routinely made (see People v. Kennedy, supra @ pp. 579-580). The “mere filing of papers received from other entities, even if such papers are retained in the regular course of business, is insufficient to qualify the documents as business records.” (People v. Cratsley, 86 NY2d 81, 90, 629 NYS2d 992 (1995)). The records will be admissible “if the recipient can establish personal knowledge of the maker’s business practices and procedures, or that the records provided by the maker were incorporated into the recipient’s own records or routinely relied upon by the recipient in its business.” (State of New York v. 158th Street & Riverside Drive Housing Company, Inc., 100AD3d 1293, 1296, 956 NYS2d 196 (2012); leave denied, 20 NY3d 858 (2013); see also Viviane Etienne Medical Care, P.C. v. Country-Wide Insurance Company, 25 NY3d 498, 14 NYS3d 283 (2015); Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Monica, 131 AD3d 737, 15 NYS3d (3rd Dept., 2015); People v. DiSalvo, 284 AD2d 547, 727 NYS2d 146 (2nd Dept., 2001); Matter of Carothers v. GEICO, 79 AD3d 864, 914 NYS2d 199 (2nd Dept., 2010)).

The statute (CPLR 4518) clearly does not require a person to have personal knowledge of each and every entry contained in a business record (see Citibank N.A. v. Abrams, 144 AD3d 1212, 40 NYS3d 653 (3rd Dept., 2016); HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Sage, 112 AD3d 1126, 977 NYS2d 446 (3rd Dept., 2013); Landmark Capital Inv. Inc. v. LI-Shan Wang, supra.). As the Appellate Division, Second Department stated in Citigroup v. Kopelowitz, 147 AD3d 1014, 48 NYS3d 223 (2nd Dept., 2017): “There is no requirement that a plaintiff in a foreclosure action rely on a particular set of business records to establish a prima facie case, so long as the plaintiff satisfies the admissibility requirements of CPLR 4518(a) and the records themselves actually evince the facts for which they are relied upon.” Decisions interpreting CPLR 4518 are consistent to the extent that the three foundational requirements: 1) that the record be made in the regular course of business; 2) that it is in the regular course of business to make the record; and 3) that the record must be made at or near the time the transaction occurred. – if demonstrated, make the records admissible since such records are considered trustworthy and reliable. Moreover, the language contained in the statute specifically authorizes the court discretion to determine admissibility by stating “if the judge finds” that the three foundational requirements are satisfied the evidence shall be admissible.

The affidavit submitted from the plaintiff/mortgage servicer’s (JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A.’s) vice president provides the evidentiary foundation for establishing the mortgage lender’s right to foreclose. The affidavit sets forth the employee’s review of the business records maintained by the plaintiff/mortgage servicer; the fact that the books and records are made in the regular course of Chase’s business; that it was Chase’s regular course of business to maintain such records; that the records were made at or near the time the underlying transactions took place; and that the records were created by an individual with personal knowledge of the underlying transactions.. Based upon the submission of this affidavit , plaintiff has provided an admissible evidentiary foundation which satisfies the business records exception to the hearsay rule with respect to the issues raised in this summary judgment application.

With respect to the issue of standing (relevant based upon defendant’s fifth affirmative defense set forth in his answer), plaintiff has proven standing by submission of the affidavit from the plaintiff/mortgage servicer's vice president attesting to plaintiff's possession of the indorsed in blank promissory note on the date this action was commenced (Aurora Loan Services v. Taylor, supra.; Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Parker, supra.; U.S. Bank, N.A. v. Ehrenfeld, 144 AD3d 893, 41 NYS3d 269 (2nd Dept., 2016); GMAC v. Sidberry, 144 AD3d 863, 40 NYS3d 783 (2nd Dept., 2016); U.S. Bank, N.A. v. Carnivale, 138 AD3d 1220 (3rd Dept., 2016)).

With respect to the issue of the defendant's default in making payments, in order to establish prima facie entitlement to judgment as a matter of law in a foreclosure action, the plaintiff must submit the mortgage, the unpaid note and admissible evidence to show default (see Property Asset Management, Inc. v. Souffrant et al., 162 AD3d 919, 75 NYS3d 432 (2nd Dept., 2018); PennyMac Holdings, Inc. v. Tomanelli, 139 AD3d 688, 32 NYS3d 181 (2nd Dept., 2016); North American Savings Bank v. Esposito-Como, 141 AD3d 706, 35 NYS3d 491 (2nd Dept., 2016); Washington Mutual Bank v. Schenk, 112 AD3d 615, 975 NYS2d 902 (2nd Dept., 2013)). Plaintiff has provided admissible evidence in the form of a copy of the note and mortgage, and an affidavit attesting to the mortgagor's undisputed default in making timely mortgage payments sufficient to sustain its burden to prove the defendant has defaulted under the terms of the parties agreement by failing to make timely payments since April 1, 2010 (CPLR 4518; see Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Thomas, supra.; Citigroup v. Kopelowitz, supra.). Accordingly, and in the absence of any proof to raise an issue of fact concerning the defendant's continuing default, plaintiff's application for summary judgment based upon defendant's breach of the mortgage agreement and promissory note must be granted.

With respect to service of the pre-foreclosure RPAPL 1304 90-day notices, the proof required to prove strict compliance with the statute (RPAPL 1304) can be satisfied: 1) by plaintiff's submission of an affidavit of service of the notices (see CitiMortgage, Inc. v. Pappas, 147 AD3d 900, 47 NYS3d 415 (2nd Dept., 2017); Bank of New York Mellon v. Aquino, 131 AD3d 1186, 16 NYS3d 770 (2nd Dept., 2015); Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Spanos, 102 AD3d 909, 961 NYS2d 200 (2nd Dept., 2013)); or 2) by plaintiff's submission of sufficient proof to establish proof of mailing by the post office (see Nationstar Mortgage, LLC v. LaPorte, 162 AD3d 784, 79 NYS3d 70 (2nd Dept., 2018); HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Ozcan, 154 AD3d 822, 64 NYS3d 38 (2nd Dept., 2017); CitiMortgage, Inc. v. Pappas, supra pg. 901; see Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Trupia, 150 AD3d 1049, 55 NYS3d 134 (2nd Dept., 2017)). Once either method is established a presumption of receipt arises (see Viviane Etienne Medical Care, P.C. v. Country-Wide Insurance Co., supra.; Flagstar Bank v. Mendoza, 139 AD3d 898, 32 NYS3d 278 (2nd Dept., 2016); Residential Holding Corp. v. Scottsdale Insurance Co., 286 AD2d 679, 729 NYS2d 766 (2nd Dept., 2001)).

In this case, the record shows that there is sufficient evidence to prove that mailing by certified and first class mail was done proving strict compliance pursuant to RPAPL 1304 mailing requirements. Plaintiff submitted proof in the form of an affidavit from an employee of the servicer that was responsible for maintaining the service records. The affidavit sets forth the representative's personal familiarity with the servicer's record-keeping practices for defaulted mortgage loans. The affidavit states that the mailing of both notices was done on June 3, 2011 which was more than 90 days prior to commencing this action on April 20, 2012. Plaintiff has also submitted two copies of the 90 day notices mailed by first class and certified mail by Chase addressed to the borrower, Brockwell, at the mortgaged premises which contains notations of both mailings, with a twenty digit certified article tracking number for the certified mailing (7107 8381 6540 4062 7827); together with the RPAPL 1306 filing statement confirming compliance and mailing of the RPAPL 1304 notices filed with the New York State Banking Department. Such proof provides sufficient evidence to prove strict compliance with service requirements pursuant to RPAPL 1304 (Nationstar Mortgage LLC v. LaPorte, supra.; HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Ozcan, supra.). Defendant Brockwell's and defense counsel's conclusory denial of service is not supported by any relevant, admissible evidence to contradict the proof submitted by the plaintiff and to raise a genuine issue of fact which would defeat plaintiff's summary judgment motion on these grounds (see PHH Mortgage Corp. v. Muricy, 135 AD3d 725, 24 NYS3d 137 (2nd Dept., 2016); HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v. Espinal, 137 AD3d 1079, 28 NYS3d 107 (2nd Dept., 2016)).

With respect to defendant's claim of plaintiff's failure to negotiate in good faith, the law is clear that a foreclosing party has no obligation to modify the terms of its loan freely entered into by the borrower and a failure to modify the loan obligation does not provide any defense to a mortgage foreclosure action (see Citibank, N.A. v. Van Brunt Properties, LLC, 95 AD3d 1158, 945 NYS2d 330 (2nd Dept., 2010)). Court records indicate that the mortgagor was afforded two CPLR 3408 court mandated foreclosure settlement conferences on October 25, 2013 and on January 15, 2014. During the first conference the mortgagor was represented by counsel. At the conclusion of the January 15, 2014 conference the court attorney/referee responsible for overseeing and conducting the conference marked the action "not settled" and the action was remanded to an IAS part. There is no indication in the records maintained by the court attorneys/referees who conducted the two conferences that plaintiff's representatives ever failed to negotiate in good faith. No legal or equitable grounds therefore exist to further delay prosecution of this action, particularly in view of the fact that the mortgagor has defaulted in making any mortgage payments under the terms of his agreement during the past nine (9) years. .

Finally, defendant has failed to submit any admissible evidence to support his remaining affirmative defenses in opposition to plaintiff's motion. Accordingly, those defenses must be deemed abandoned and are hereby dismissed (see Kronick v. L.P. Therault Co., Inc., 70 AD3d 648, 892 NYS2d 85 (2nd Dept., 2010); Citibank, N.A. v. Van Brunt Properties, LLC, 95 AD3d 1158, 945 NYS2d 330 (2nd Dept., 2012); Flagstar Bank v. Bellafigliore, 94 AD3d 0144, 943 NYS2d 551 (2nd Dept., 2012); Wells Fargo Bank Minnesota, N.A. v. Perez, 41 AD3d 590, 837 NYS2d 877 (2nd Dept., 2007)).

Accordingly, plaintiff's motion seeking an order granting summary judgment is granted and the proposed order of reference has been signed simultaneously with execution of this order.
